

DR. DAVID BELLAMY

Tallahassee Orthopedic Clinic

Dr. David Bellamy began his public service career in 1989, enrolling in the Lively Criminal Justice Academy. After earning his medical degree from the University of Florida College of Medicine in 1997, Dr. Bellamy returned to Tallahassee, where he has contributed significantly to both the medical and law enforcement communities.

Balancing his medical career and law enforcement duties, Dr. Bellamy became the Tactical Apprehension and Control (TAC) Team doctor for TPD's SWAT team, offering essential medical support. He quickly earned a reputation as a "first responders first" doctor, providing exceptional care to officers and their families.

Dr. Bellamy is known for his positive, caring personality and commitment to community service, always going the extra mile to support first responders. His involvement extends beyond his work, consistently supporting charity events and causes, making him an invaluable member of Tallahassee's first responder family.
