

Lorenzo Alexander

Lorenzo Alexander graduated from TCC in 1973, with an A. A. degree in Civil Engineering Technology.

He then attended and graduated from FAMU with a bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering Technology. Lorenzo began a career with the Florida Department of Transportation in 1973 and retired in 2008, after 35 years of service. He worked with DOT as an Engineer I, II, and III while pursuing his degree at FAMU. After graduation, Lorenzo became a Public Transportation Specialist, Planning Administrator for District II, District Public Transportation Manager. Eventually Lorenzo rose to the position of Seaport Manager with the responsibility of grants and planning for all seaports in the State of Florida. Lorenzo is now volunteering to help others and enjoying retirement.