

W. Thomas Cumbie

Raised in Quincy, Florida, Col. Cumbie distinguished himself as an officer, attorney, and member of the judiciary. He supervised all courts-martial activity and judiciary personnel in the USAF Eastern Circuit. Col. Cumbie attended Robert F. Munroe Day School, a small private school in Quincy, before heading to TCC and then Florida State University, where he earned his Bachelor's and law degrees. "It would have been a little daunting for me to go straight to FSU," he said.

He served as a staff attorney for the Florida Senate after graduating from law school. Col. Cumbie has won numerous citations, including the Meritorious Service Medal with 5 oak leaf clusters.
